Mr. Charles Huston
Assistant Superintendent

Responsibilities to Fulfill

Mr. Charles Smith
Business Manager

Mr. James Brackin

Mr. Frank Pallone
Coordinator of Special Services

The duties of the School Board are to direct the operations of all the schools in the Burrell School District.

Mr. White, Superintendent of Schools, oversees the entire school district which includes seven schools. He also serves as executive officer of the Board of Education.

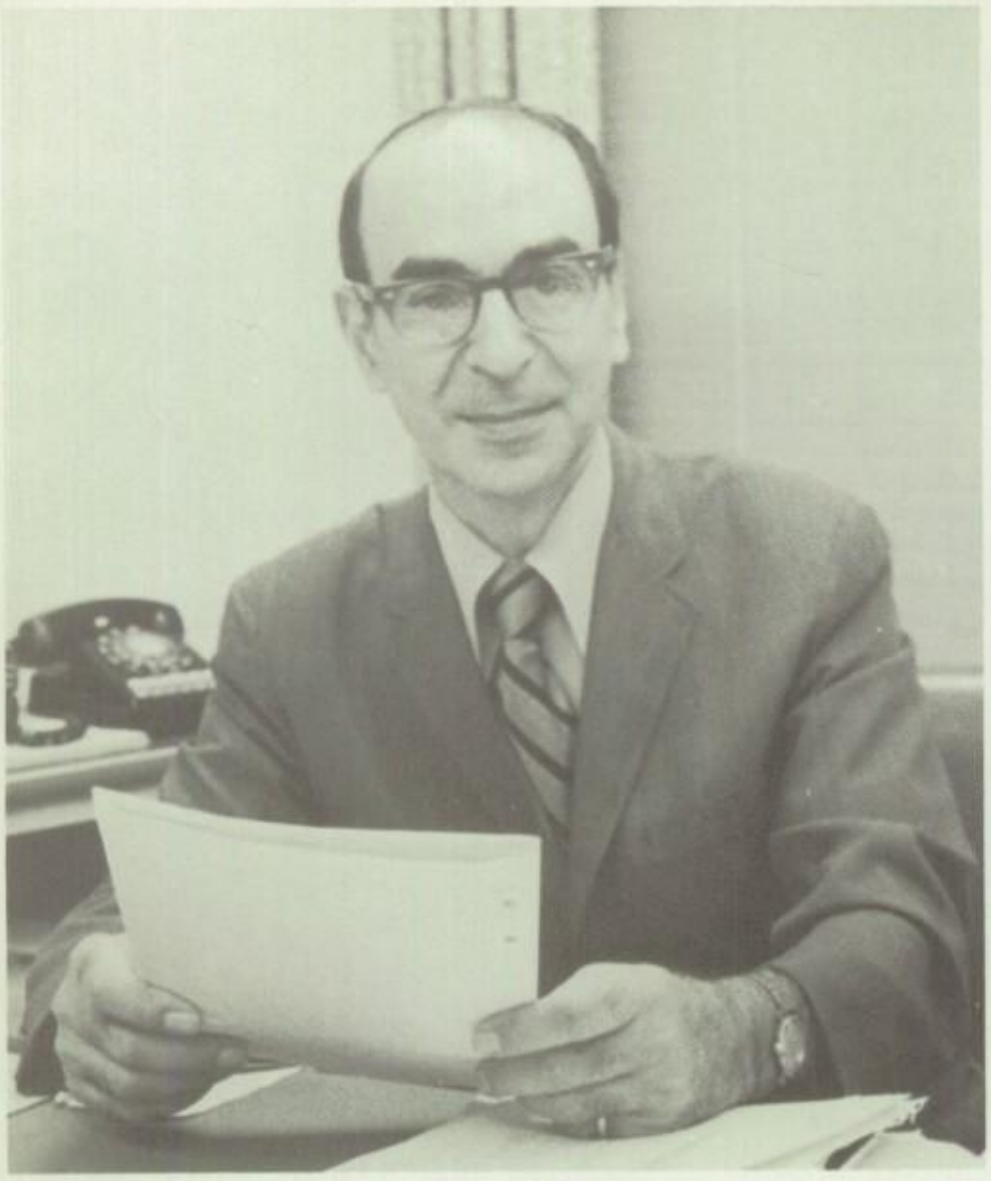
The Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Huston, is primarily concerned with curriculum, although he has numerous other duties.

As Business Manager and Secretary to the Board of Education, Mr. Smith is responsible for all the financial affairs of the school district.

Mr. Brackin serves as Assistant to the Superintendent. His duties include the direction of evening classes, personnel services, attendance, transportation, and home and school visitation.

Mr. Pallone is the Special Services Coordinator. He ascertains all available resources for state and federally-funded programs. He is director of public relations, chairman of the business education department, and is responsible for all business equipment in the district.

School Directors—In Touch with Students



Mr. Albert G. Moses
Senior High School Principal

Mr. John L. George
Assistant Senior High School Principal

Burrell High School's principal is Mr. Albert G. Moses. The principal's task is of primary importance to the functioning of a high school. Mr. Moses' duties consist of hiring personnel, observing classes, and directing the Senior High as a whole. It is his duty to see that Burrell's present standards are maintained and improved upon.

As Assistant Principal, Mr. Geroge's job is one which covers the entire scope of student life at Burrell. His duties range from activities (i.e. assemblies, clubs, etc.) to attendance and behavioral problems.

Serving in a recently instituted post, Mr. Haser is the Athletic Director for the Burrell School District. Some of his many duties include booking all sports schedules, hiring all officials, referees, etc., providing bus transportation to and from the games, preparing the season budgets for all sports, and purchasing and managing all the athletic equipment. Since the sports program is a major part of most schools, Mr. Haser's job is very vital to such a large district.

Mr. Robert L. Haser
Athletic Driector

Secretaries and Librarians—Indispensable at Burrell

Seated: Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Mary Simonette,
Standing: Mrs. Teresa Scanga, Mrs. Carmella D'Argenzio.

Seated: Mrs. Phyllis Barnas, Miss Joyce Myers.
Standing: Mrs. Anne Rusiewicz, Miss Betty Watson, Mrs. Edith Borland.

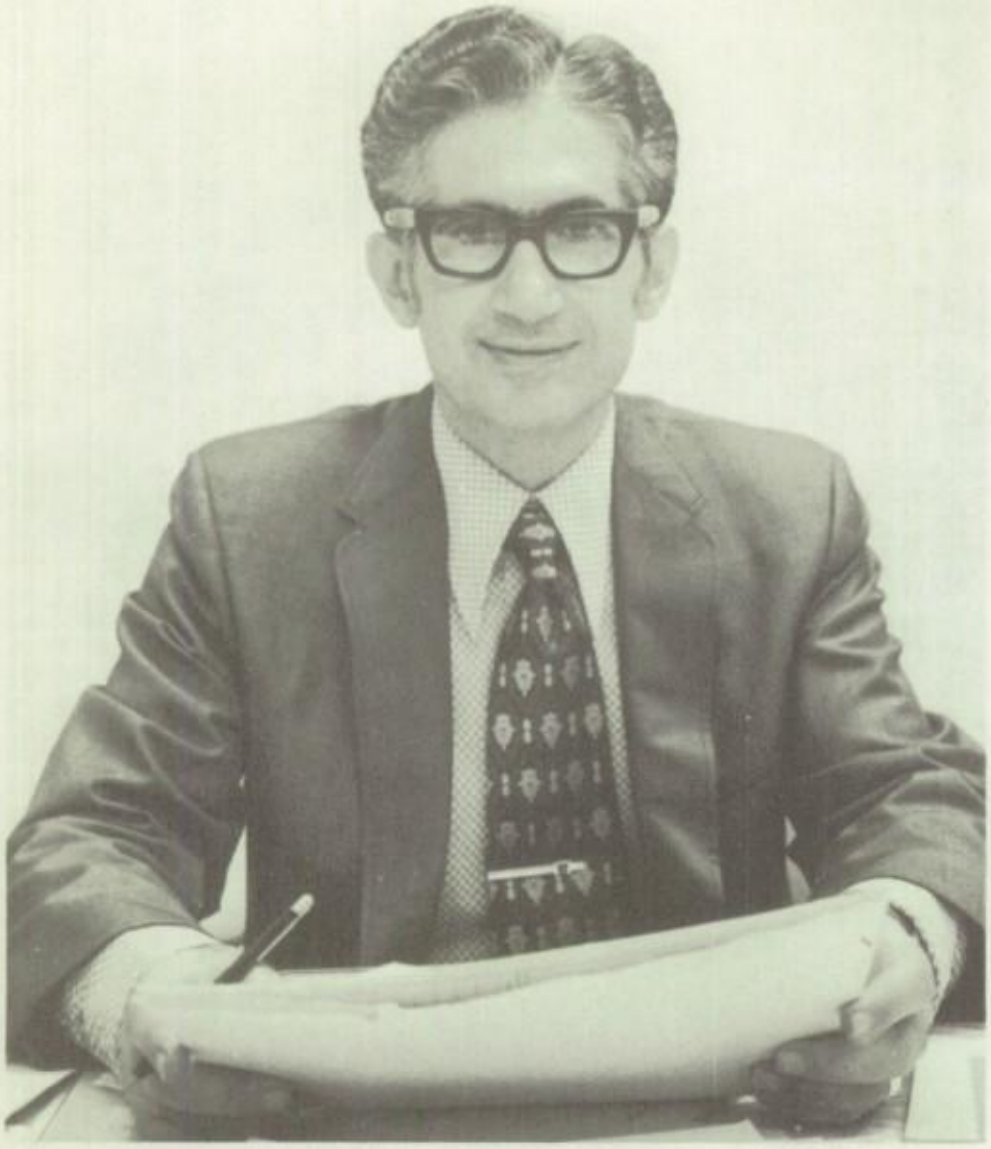
Mrs. Wanda Crawford

Librarians: Mrs. Selma Karsten, Mrs. Jacqueline Kowalik.

Burrell High School has a well-trained staff of hard-working secretaries. These ladies are very efficient and are helpful to both faculty and students.

In the library, Mrs. Karsten and Mrs. Kowalik are always ready to lend their services. The many resources, including books, periodicals, and microfilm, provide each student with the opportunity to study any area of interest in depth.

Important Personnel Provide Much



Mr. William Hajel
Guidance Director

Mrs. Sue Petherick
Guidance Counselor

The Guidance Department is an indispensible one at any school, and Burrell is no exception. Aside from aiding students in getting jobs, planning for future education, and administering necessary tests, the counselors' job is also one of giving advice to the student. This year, Burrell's guidance department began a unique program to help influence non-college bound students toward vocational training as a possible choice after completing high school.

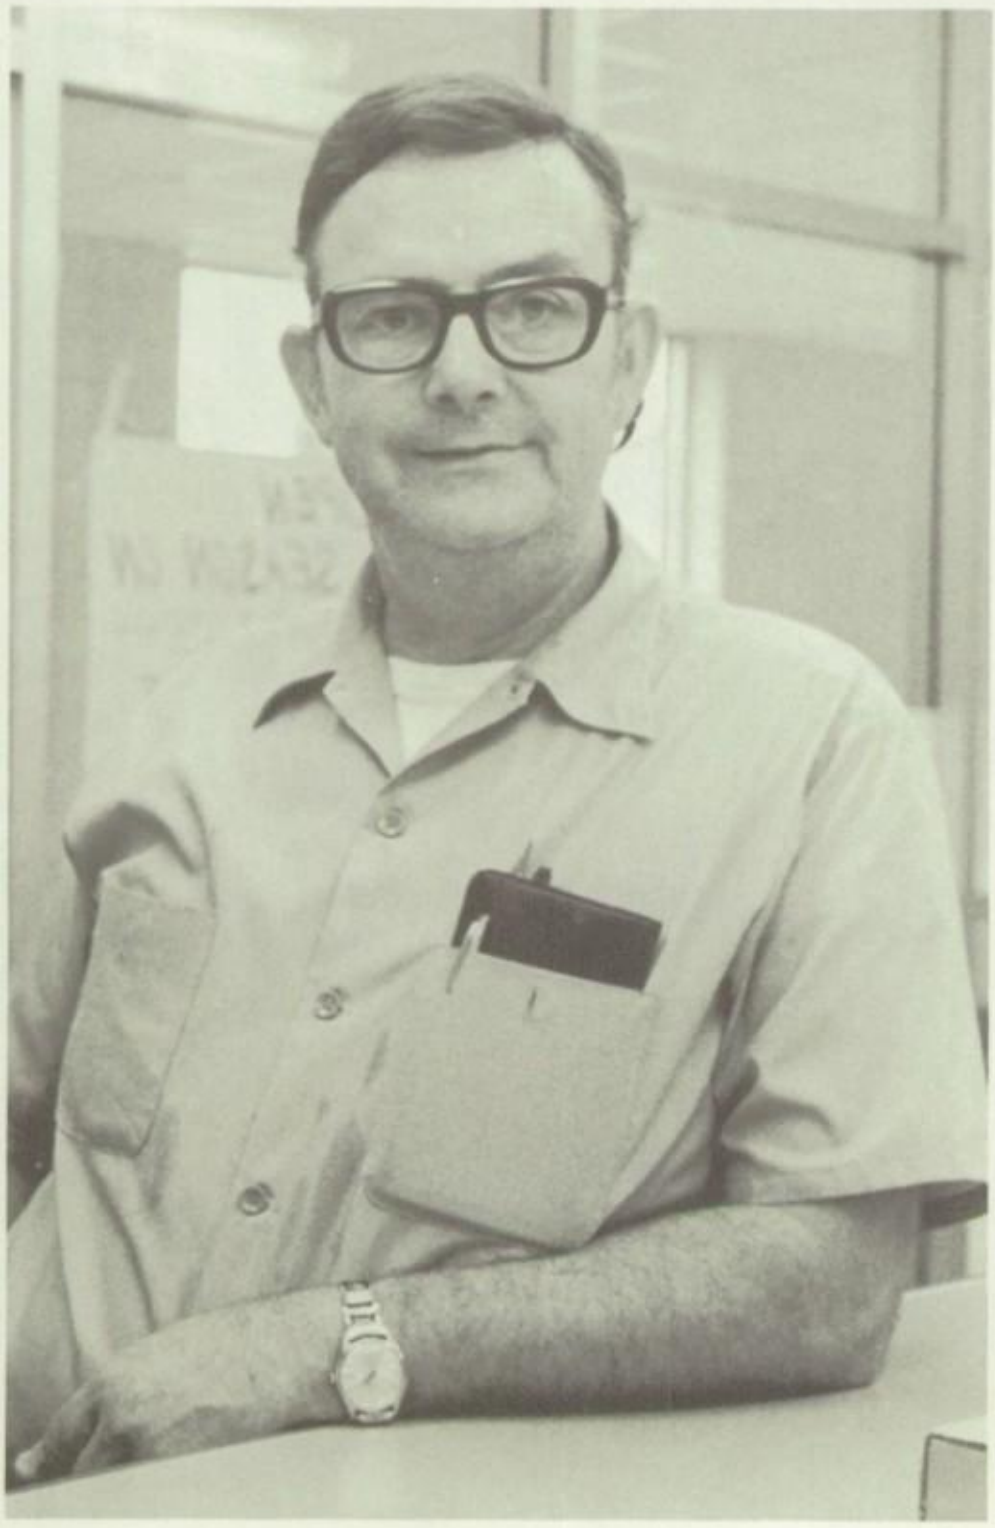
The school nurse's job is to maintain high health standards among all the students at Burrell. The enormous task of keeping individualized health records of each student is also essential. Annual seeing and hearing tests are administered along with a height/weight check. Burrell also boasts a clean, well-equipped health room.

Mrs. Louise Lanfaloni
School Nurse

Mrs. Dorothy Brackin

Needed Services at Burrell

Mrs. Elizabeth Vargo takes a break from planning the school's lunch menus.



Mr. Cal Borland keeps things going at Burrell.

Meanwhile back at the cafeteria . . .

An everyday occurence at Burrell.

Our dietician, Mrs. Elizabeth Vargo, provides the Burrell School District with a well-balanced menu.

The cafeteria staff does excellent work in preparing and serving the meals at lunchtime.

Mr. Cal Borland helps to keep Burrell High in great shape. The job of Mr. Borland and the other custodians is a greatly diversified one because, as Mr. Borland puts it, "We do a little bit of everything."

English and Science Departments Offer a

Standing: Mr. Thaddeus Hince, Mr. Thomas Marko, Mrs. Patricia Whitaker, Mr. Edward Turner, Mr. Gene Centorcelli, Mr. Larry Bell, Mrs. Sue Goodwin, Mr. Michael Brown.

Mrs. Miller & Mrs. Swartzendruber

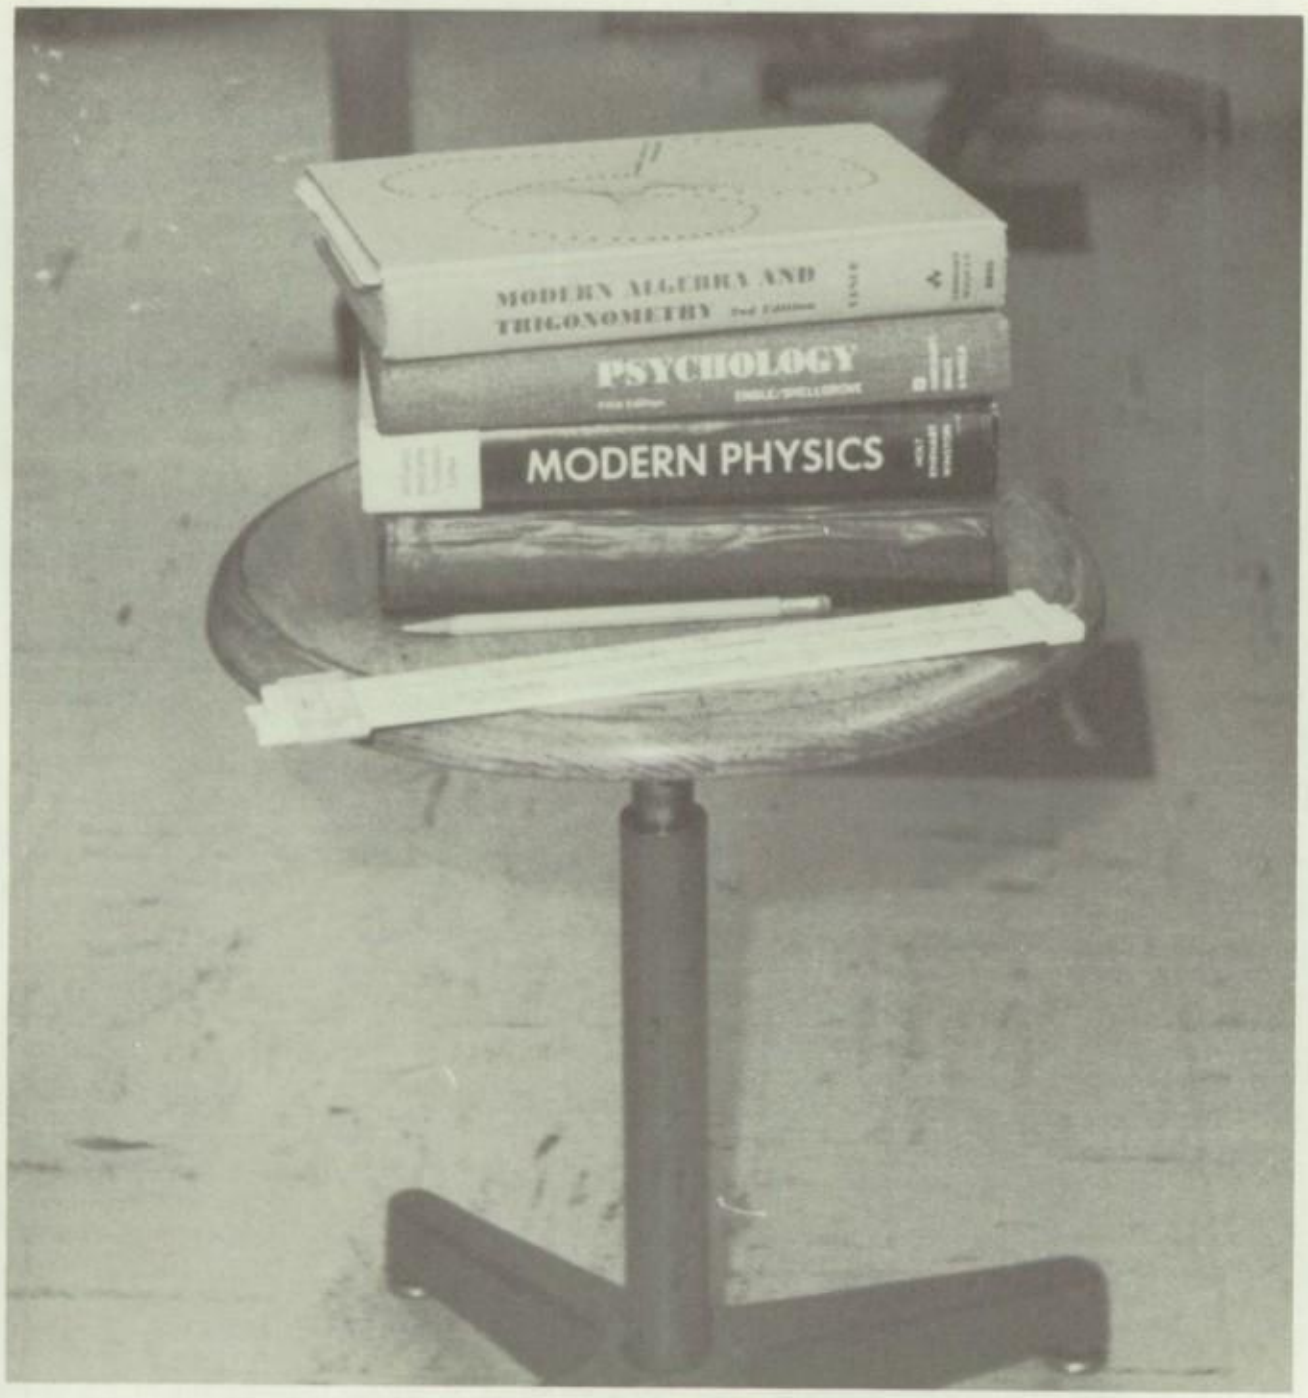
The English Department at Burrell undoubtedly ranks high among neighboring schools. In addition to general and college prep courses required on all grade levels, Honors English is offered to those students who show special interest and talent in literature and writing. Advanced Placement English, offered only on the twelfth grade level, gives the most gifted students a chance to complete the equivalent of a college freshman English course by taking a standardized test at the end of the year.

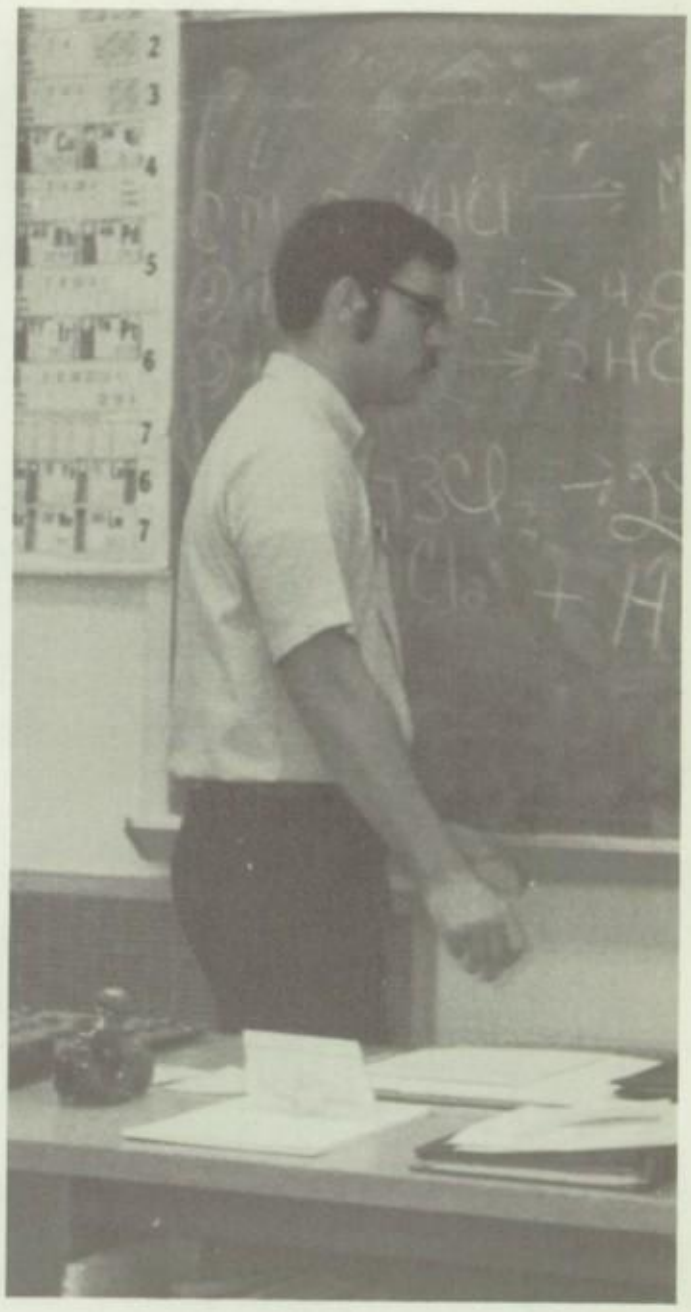
Mr. Hince makes use of his planning period.

Senior English students discuss HAMLET.

Over the years, the curriculum has expanded to include an impressive and varied list of electives including speech, drama, logic, and journalism for those students who wish to gain a full scope of English in its diversified forms.

Wide Range of Electives





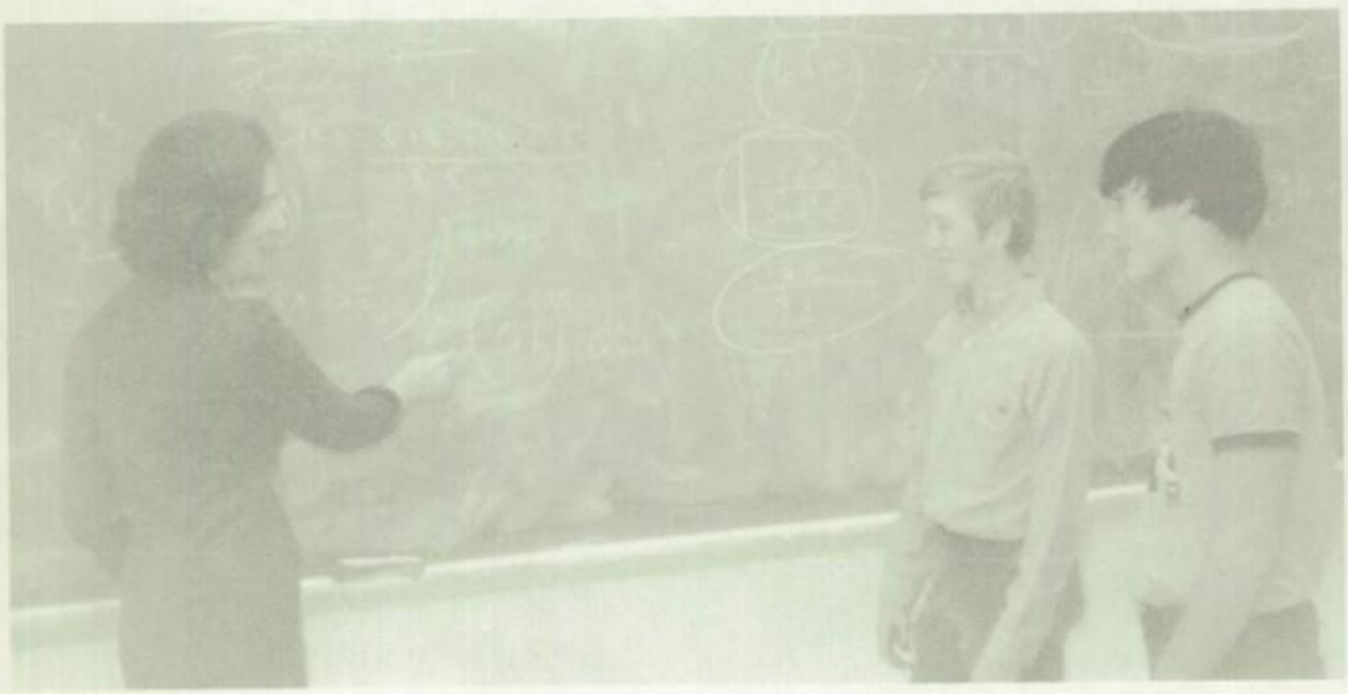
Mr. Kort explains a basic part of Chemistry I—balancing equations.

Seated: Mr. Raymond Kort, Mrs. Sheila Strober, Mr. Harry Kariotis, Mr. Samuel Earhart.
Standing: Mr. Ralph Giordano, Mr. Peter Bosin, Mr. Joseph Szul, Mr. Paul Shiring, Mr. Thompson Ader.

Scientifically speaking, Burrell High offers a useful variety of courses for the interested student. The choice of studies includes Regular Biology, BSCS, Biology II, Regular Chemistry, Chem Study, Chemistry II, Regular Physics, PSSC, Earth & Space Science, and Nuclear Science. Many of these courses provide laboratory experience in addition to lectures and discussions.

Math and Business Departments Offer

Standing: Mr. Rudy Veselicky, Mrs. Marlene Brown, Mr. Michael Matisko, Mr. Patrick Flaherty, Mr
Marko Arezina
Seated: Miss Marie Pfeil



"You've got to be kidding!"

Miss Lege explains the fundamentals o
Trigonometry.

The Mathematics Department prepares students for many jobs in fields such as engineering, architecture, and the ever-expanding computer industry.

The General Math course provides an overall understanding of basic mathematics. Other courses include Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Advanced Algebra & Trigonometry. The Fifth Year Math course (Mathematical Analysis Honors) goes even deeper into the subject of Math and prepares the student for higher math such as Calculus.

Beth Parks consults Mr. Matisko on a math problem.

a Wide Variety of Skills

Although the main purpose of the business department is to enable students to obtain business positions upon leaving school, a number of these courses can help all students gain practical knowledge which can be utilized in virtually any profession, such as typing and shorthand. There are three separate divisions in the business course: clerical, bookkeeping, and secretarial. Students are placed in these areas according to individual ability and any student in the school may take any business course which suits his needs.

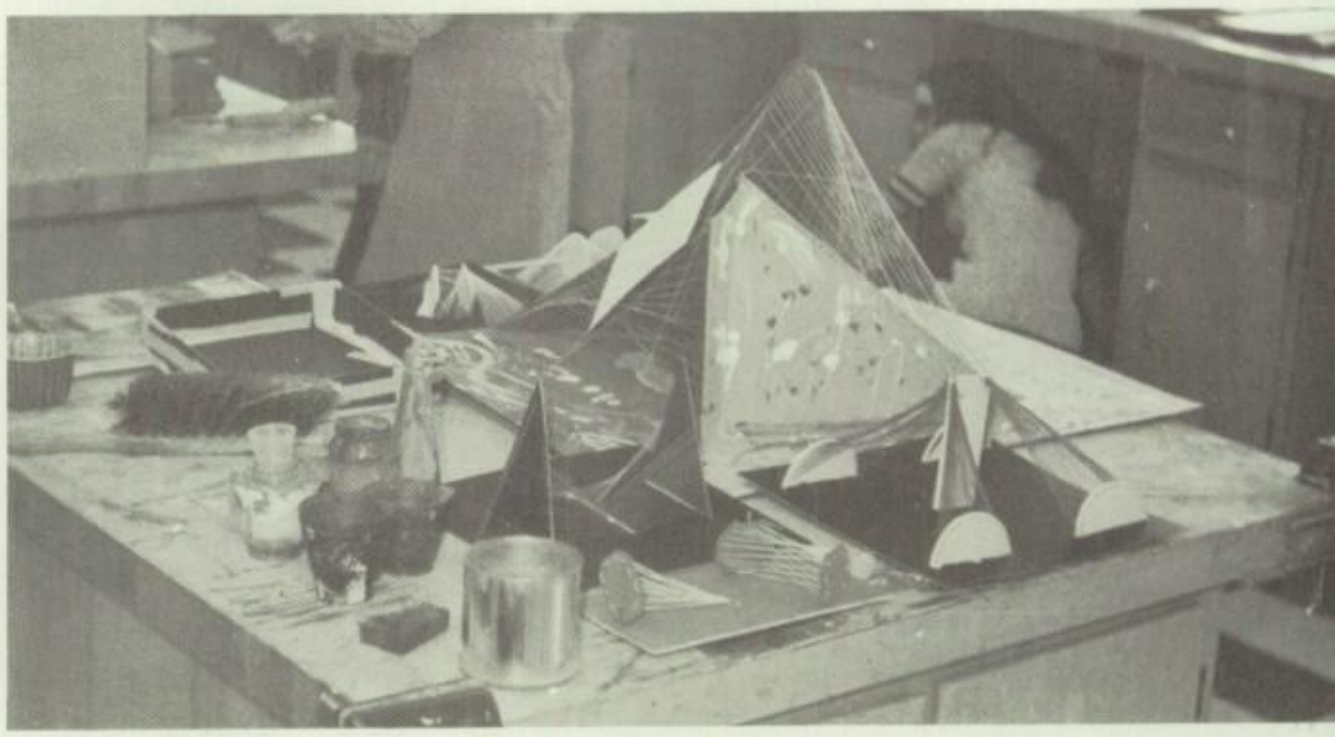
Lourdes White does some last-minute typing.

Jane Beacom and Debbie Adamovits learn to operate the latest office equipment in their Office Practice course.

Seated: Miss Mary DeBruine, Mrs. Barbara Farster.
Standing: Mrs. Barbara Yoders, Mrs. Roberta Malobicky, Mrs. Janet Donati.

Communication—Through Art . . .

"Gary, I told you not to drop it on the floor!"



A future creation??

The Art Department at Burrell is an excellent place for the development of talent, creativity, and individuality. Here the student is able to express himself with the help of Mr. Jacques Watkins. Most art students find art classes enjoyable while, at the same time, students develop their own style and learn to appreciate art.

Art Appreciation, Drawing & Painting, Sculpture & Ceramics, and Crafts are the electives offered at Burrell.

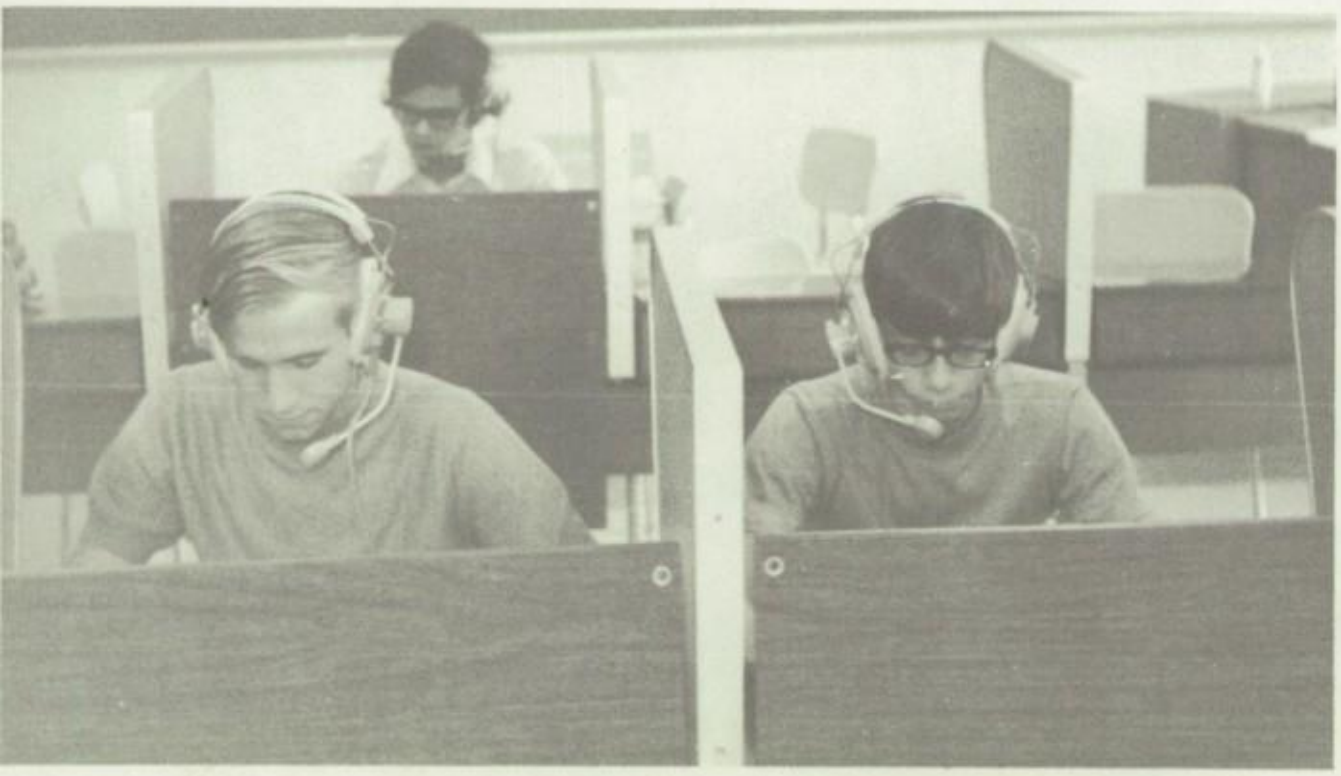
Mr. Jack Watkins explains Renaissance art to his Art Appreciation class.

and Language

Mrs. Susan Schmitt, Mr. Fred Gaggini, Miss Peggyann Bastiaans.

Miss Crumley takes advantage of the library's quiet setting.

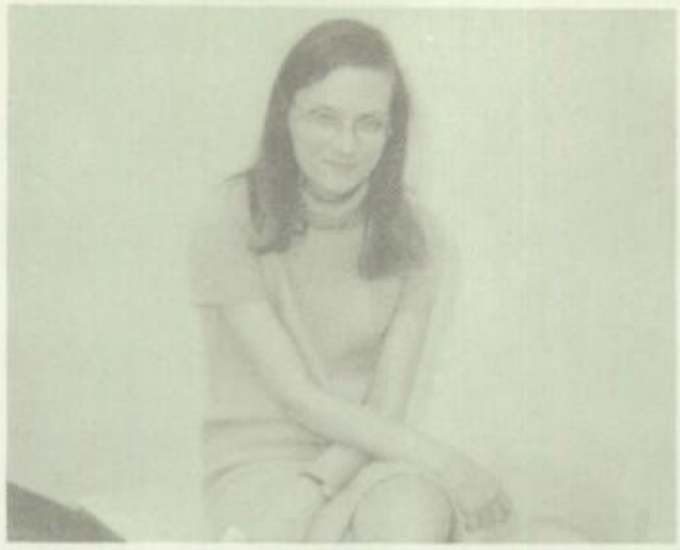
May I have this German dance?



Aw, c'mon, guys. The music can't be that bad!

For those students who wish to acquire knowledge of the make-up of foreign languages, Burrell offers three courses: Spanish, French, and German. Spanish and French are taught up to the fourth year level, while German is offered up to the third level. In addition to the text books, a modern language lab aids students in listening and speaking practice. Many phases of culture such as customs, songs, holidays, and geography are also taught in the language classes.

Humanities Expand Students' Views of the World

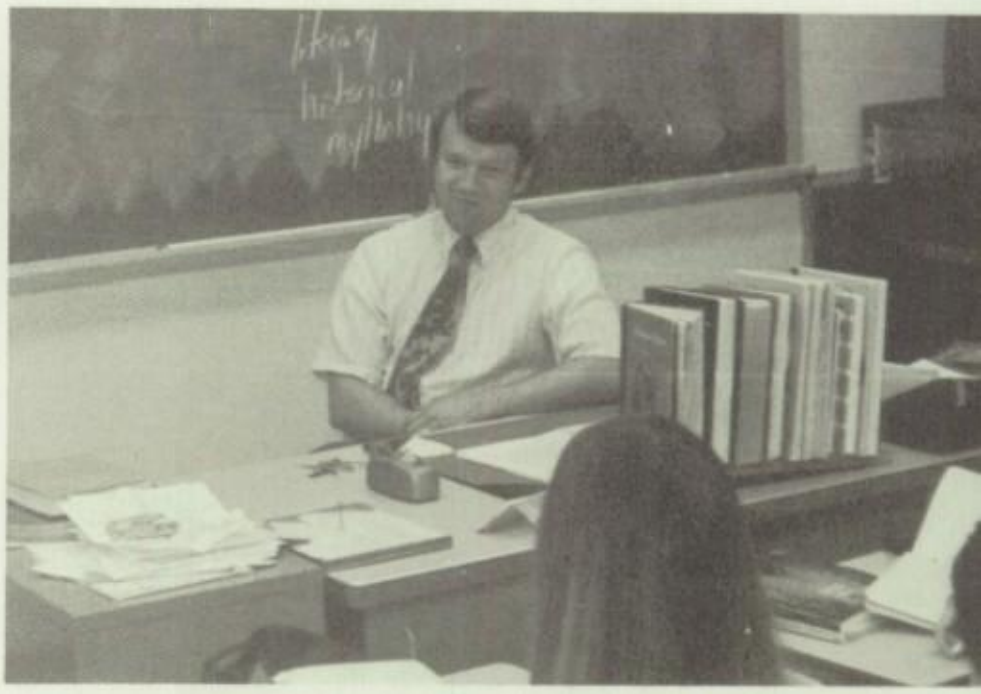


"These yearbook photographers are getting to be real pests!"

The Social Studies Department offers the student a wide choice of electives. Along with the required courses in World Cultures and American Cultures, P.O.D., Economics, International Relations, World Geography, Comparative Political Systems, Sociology and Psychology are available as semester electives.

These courses furnish essential insight into the world today and prepare the student to face life with determination.

Mr. Charles Harriger



"Hey, I thought you said these were Jujyfruits!"

Seated: Miss Karen Baldwin
Standing: Mr. Gary Varnum, Mr. George Geyer, Mr. Frank Solomond, Mr. Richard DeLuca, Mr. Lee Herps, Mr. Robert Jones, Mr. Donn Kelly, Mr. Phillip Maolbicky.

Physical Education—A Change of Pace

Mr. Fred Herlinger, Mr. John Robuck, Miss Charlene Tromby, Mrs. Mary Ann Neuschwander.

Health classes are a part of every senior's curriculum at Burrell.

This guy makes learning anatomy just a little more interesting.

Flag football is one of the many outdoor games played in physical education class.

Intramurals provide competition and enjoyment for enthusiastic students.

Physical Education classes are held twice a week either in the pool or in the gymnasium. Students are able to develop coordination through gymnastic, athletic, and aquatic instruction. Intramural games in football, basketball and volleyball are also stressed along with the regular season sports.

Health classes provide the student with a necessary knowledge of the care and development of the human body. Discussion on many of society's current health problems are also emphasized. Health is taken by all freshmen and seniors at Burrell.

Music—An Outlet for Expression

Mr. Stephen Skorija and Mr. James Lagoon, Jr.

Mr. Skorija leads the choir at a school assembly.

The Music Department gives students at Burrell the opportunity to not only increase their musical knowledge, but en joy it and express themselves at the sam time. The courses offered, which include Mixed Choir, Girls' Chorus, Band, Harm ny & Theory, and Music Appreciation, supply the basis for both individuality and group effort in making the calss enjoyable and beneficial to all involved.

Directed by Mr. Lagoon, the marching band adds enthusiasm at Burrell's football games.

Row II: Miss King, Miss Roberto, Miss Krchnavy.

liss King explains the Globe Theatre to English
udents.

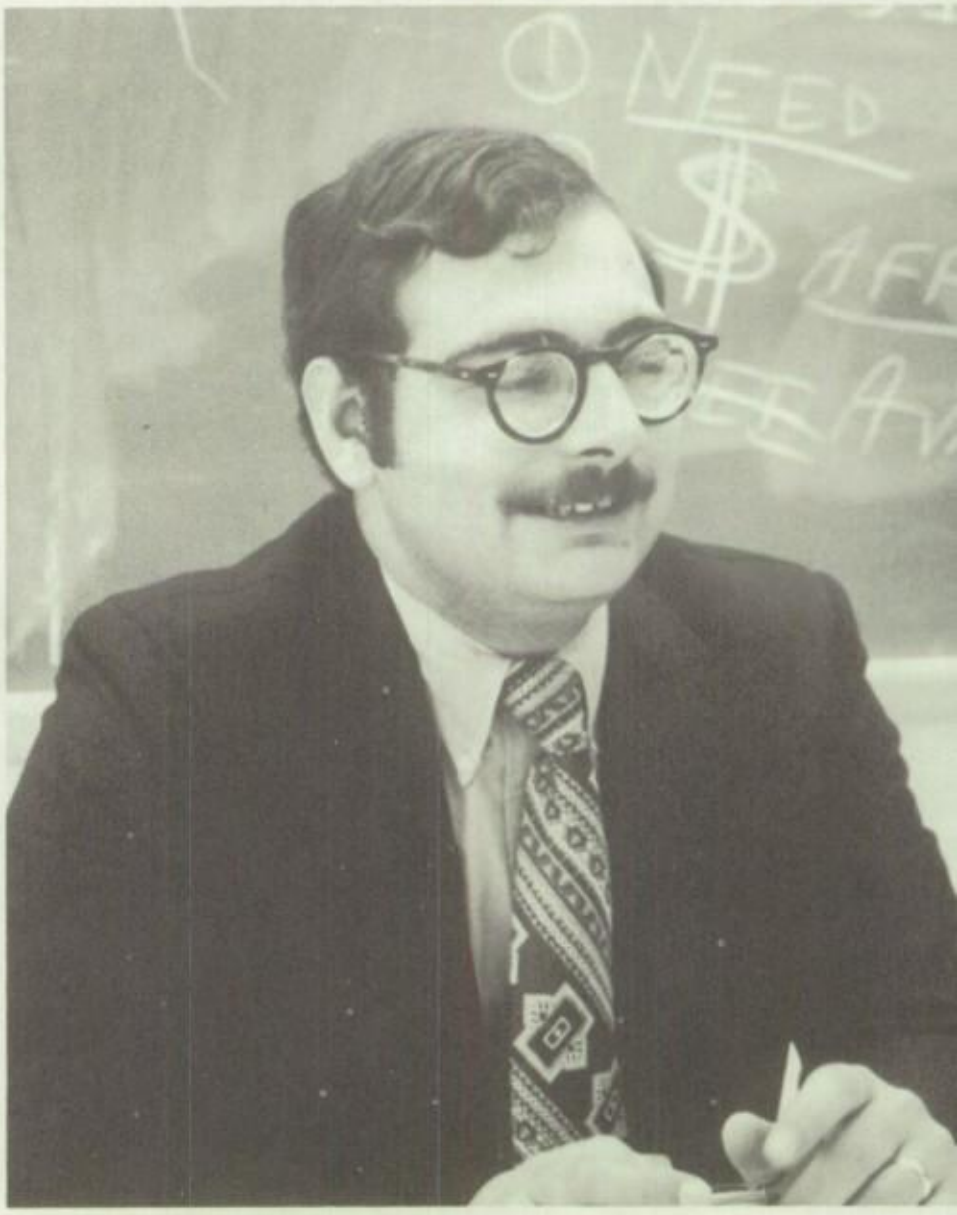
Burrell High School receives all of their student teachers from the Indiana University of Pennsylvania. When college students in the School of Education reach their senior year, the entire area of concentration consists of classroom observation and, for a semester period, actual teaching in the classroom. The student teacher is required to study the teaching methods of several instructors, plan lessons, and apply theory and creativity to their classroom work.

Vocational Courses at Burrell Offe

Mr. Robert Devine

A special program at Burrell is Occupational Education, taug by Mr. Robert Devine. The primary aim of this course is to guid students in becoming contributing members in society. Aside from on-the-job training, students take important academic sub jects needed for a comfortable and satisfying future. Because most of the Occupational Education students plan to obtain job upon leaving school, the area of study is concentrated toward th goal rather than toward a college preparatory type of program.

Distributive Education is a two-year course offered at Burrell for those students whose interests lie in the fields of business and retailing. Special training begins in grade eleven when students take the Marketing & Sales course along with other required subjects. This introduces the prospective business employees with the basic knowledge needed for the outside business world. When students reach the twelfth grade, they are able to put their theoretical knowledge to actual practice by working in area retailing stores for a half-day along with continued instruction of merchandising and management principles in the class room. This program is called C.O.E. (Cooperative Occupational Experience). Mr. DeSimone is the Distributive Education teacher at Burrell.



Mr. George DeSimone

Valuable Training for the Future

Mr. Domen and Mr. Malobicky share a joke in World Cultures class.

Mr. Tom Domen

The Driver Education course, guided by Mr. Domen furnishes students with a practical and cautious outlook on driving. The course consists of thirty hours of classroom theory and six hours of actual behind-the-wheel training.

"Wanna drag?"

Home Economics and Industrial Arts Provide

The Home Economics Department develops the basic skills needed for the proper care of the home. In addition to the courses in Introductory Foods, Advanced Foods, Introductory Clothing, Creative Clothing, and Boy's Homemaking, two new courses, Home & Family Living and Child Development, are now available. As in all the courses taught at Burrell, Home Economics students are given practical instruction and training for the future.

Peggy Stewart and Kym King entertain pre-schoolers in Child Development.

Mrs. Anna M. Palermo and Miss Carole Zeolla

Welcome to the Future Betty Crocker Club!

Practical Skills for Students

Roger Gestner plans his next project in Mechanical Drawing.

Students express their creativity in Wood Shop.

Mr. Joseph Yedlowski and Mr. Kenneth Cyphert.

The aim of the Industrial Arts program is to delve into a particular area of study—mechanical drawing, wood shop, metal shop, or electric shop—and provide training to aid interested, mechanically minded students. Although these courses consist of mostly boys, girls are encouraged to study these courses if they so desire.
